Course Description
Strings for the Non-String Player is an in-depth examination of the playing and teaching of string instruments in today's classroom environment. Designed for the teacher with minimal string playing experience, the course will provide students with the theoretical and practical knowledge required for teaching elementary and secondary strings. The course will be organized into daily sessions of class lessons, in-depth discussions, instrument specific technique programs, and ensemble training. Topics discussed will include: String Program Set-up and Organization; Lesson Implementation; Assessment; Method Book /Orchestral Literature Review; Rehearsal Techniques; Tuning and Intonation Development, and Advanced Right and Left Hand Technique for the secondary level player. Students will exit the class playing a string instrument, with knowledge of string teaching methods, techniques and literature, and lesson plans to apply string pedagogy to their specific teaching situations. What to bring: Please bring a violin, a viola, and a cello. Basses will be supplied.
Student Learning Outcomes
At the conclusion of this graduate music education course, students will:
- Understand and evidence a theoretical and practical knowledge and pedagogy to teach emerging strings players
- Understand, identify and use appropriate methodology and techniques to effectively play and teach strings
- Understand and select appropriate repertoire and methodology that is age and developmentally appropriate
- Understand and plan effectively for teaching the foundations of strings pedagogy and techniques for varied string instruments

Grading Criteria and Assessment Methods
Course assessment, evaluation and grading is based upon three factors: (1) the completion of the pre-assignment, (2) active engagement in daily course studies and (3) in the completion of the final assignment/post-assignment.

Below is the rubric that will be utilized by faculty to assess and evaluate students in these three categories of learning and understanding.

Please note that pre-assignment and final/post assignments should be included in the course outline at the end of this syllabus.

The Grading Policy can be found in the Course Catalogue.

Academic Integrity Policy
A primary tenet of this course is to prepare students for professional responsibilities as teachers. The timely arrival to class as well as the daily preparation and engagement in course studies is essential.

University policy on Academic Integrity may be found in the UArts catalog.

If students are not clear about what constitutes plagiarism, you might recommend Introduction to Research and Documentation available on the University Libraries website.
Absences
Due to the compressed nature of the five-day intensive course structure, absences from class will not be accepted. Students who arrive late to class or leave early will be held accountable for missed time through additional assignments to be completed outside of course hours.

Technology
Policies on Technology may be found in the Course Catalogue.

Class Format
All summer music studies courses that meet in-person are five-day intensive courses typically running for 8 hours per day. Students are responsible for preparation of materials, for engaging in course content as per the course description, and in being responsive to completion of pre and post coursework as detailed in the course outline. Courses offered online may be in a different format and may run for a longer amount of time, specific to the needs and intents of the course content.

Educational Accessibility
Students who believe they are eligible for course accommodations under the ADA or Section 504 or have had accommodations or modifications in the past, should contact the Office of Educational Accessibility at 215-717-6616 or access@uarts.edu to arrange for appropriate accommodations and to obtain an accommodations letter, if applicable. Faculty can provide course accommodations/modifications only after receipt of an approved accommodations letter from the Office of Educational Accessibility. Accommodation letters can be provided to qualified students at any time during the semester, but grades earned before the letter is received by the faculty cannot be changed.
